“Our collective team has delivered hundreds of millions of pieces of essential products working together directly for governments, hospitals, publicly traded corporations and other essential frontline workforces. We are proud to formalize our longtime partnership and continued efforts to supply the world with products to keep people safe,” continued Bonesteel.

Mr. Blake Sherwood, Strategic Partner and Director of Supply Chain Logistics at NIXCOVID and Nixie Technologies Inc, shares this sentiment, "Through this strategic partnership, we have a strong and secure distribution of all products, including PPE, in the U.S. and around the world.
